Marianne Zarlinga, the “skincare diva” of North Royalton, has been sharing her secrets with devoted clients for over 15 years. Now she has a new secret to share, and it’s organic.

As owner of Skin Secrets Skin Care Clinic, Marianne has been a leader in clinical skincare, facials, microdermabrasion, designer peels, electrolysis, and more. She stays on the leading edge of skincare, keeping herself apprised and trained on all state-of-the-art techniques.

“Up to this point, my clinic has focused on paramedical skincare, or, what I like to call ‘no joke’ skincare that provides visible results quite quickly. I’m excited to incorporate a great line of certified organic products called Jurlique,” smiles Marianne. “The line is completely plant-based and is produced on farms in Australia in a controlled, natural environment from seed to jar. These are some of the best products available, yet they are not readily found in our area.”

“It’s the perfect combination,” Marianne continues. “Clinical meets natural. You can definitely mix the two and get even greater results. It’s all about each client’s needs and preferences. I’m just happy to be able to provide the full spectrum of products and services.”

“The Jurlique line will be used in our signature organic facials and will be available for retail purchase,” she reveals. “It complements my Jane Iredale Mineral Makeup line. It also is perfect to use in combination with our new vegan and paraben-free makeup.”

Skin Secrets has also been a leader in permanent hair removal for quite some time. “Electrolysis is still the only proven method of hair removal that is truly permanent. It’s safe and effective,” insists Marianne. “We can remove hair from all parts of the body, giving a smooth appearance and feel. It’s a life-saver for some women.”

Marianne is also a specialist in 12-tone personal color analysis, a science that identifies a person’s natural color tone to bring harmony to all aspects of life. Makeup suggestions and a personal color book to help when shopping are included with each analysis.
